

Bakkt Now Available Through Unchained's Collaborative Custody Network

March 8, 2024

ALPHARETTA, Ga.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Bakkt Holdings, Inc. ("Bakkt") (NYSE: BKKT) today announced that the company is available now as a key agent for Unchained's enterprise collaborative custody product. This collaborative model helps bitcoin holders increase security when safeguarding their assets through the use of a vault secured by multiple institutional key agents. As a part of the network, Bakkt will serve as an institutional signatory for Unchained customers' multi-signature vaults.

"Secure and regulated custody is at the core of our business," said Gavin Michael, CEO of Bakkt. "As a part of Unchained's network, we're enabling a new way to access our platform. In a time of regulatory uncertainty, large institutions are seeking multiple custody options to keep their bitcoin safe. Unchained's unique platform makes this access simple, and this strategic collaboration is an efficient way for Bakkt to continue scaling our custody business."

"As a regulated custodian, Bakkt is an ideal fit for our network," said Joe Kelly, CEO and co-founder of Unchained. "Our mission is to ensure that our clients' assets are safe, in a way that's more secure than any other single solution. This is why we built our collaborative custody network with institutional-grade key holders like Bakkt."
